

Introduction to Anthropology ACE

8 Modules + 1 Final Exam Module / Credit-by-Course / 3 Credits

Course Description:

In Introduction to Anthropology, we look at the comparative study of humankind. Our emphasis is on the core concepts, methods and components of the four subfields - Biological Anthropology, Anthropological Archaeology, Linguistic Anthropology, and Sociocultural Anthropology (shortened to Cultural Anthropology). In addition, the course connects anthropology to our everyday life. It focuses on understanding and appreciating the diversity of human beings through examining language, gender, religion and other societal institutions. The course concludes with the role of anthropology in our changing world.

Course Objectives:

After completing this course, you will be able to:

- Interpret the fundamental principles of the four subfields of anthropology as presented in the text.
- Compare and contrast strategies used by anthropologists to study human development, including the application of the scientific method.
- Recognize the influence of anthropological theories and methods on ideas in other disciplines related to anthropology.
- Recognize the variety of people and cultures that exist today and the influences and processes that contributed to their evolution.
- Compare and contrast the similarities and differences between present-day and earlier people regarding their beliefs, religions, customs, languages, marriage practices, family structures, and artistic expression, among other topics.
- Apply concepts of evolution and genetics to the history of human development.
- Identify world systems and global issues and recognize how our cultural differences influence the solutions to these problems at both individual and societal levels.

E-Book:

Title: Anthropology: Appreciating Human Diversity, 19th edition, by Kottak, Conrad Phillip, McGraw-Hill Education.

Open Educational Resources (OER's)

If you are struggling with a term or concept, you can utilize the links below to search for the concept or term to find additional resources and explanations.

[Link Removed]

Open Source Textbook: Perspectives: An Open Invitation to Cultural Anthropology
(<http://perspectives.americananthro.org/>)

Open Source Textbook: Explorations: An Open Invitation To Biological Anthropology
(<http://explorations.americananthro.org/>)

Society of Linguistic Anthropology (<http://linguisticanthropology.org/>)

Archaeological Institute of America (<https://www.archaeological.org/>)

MIT Open Education Intro to Anthropology Course
(<https://ocw.mit.edu/courses/anthropology/21a-00-introduction-to-anthropology-spring-2013/>)

American Anthropological Association (<https://www.americananthro.org/index.aspx>)

Closed Captioning

Lecture videos and extra resource videos have automatic closed captioning. These captions are generated by computer algorithms. To utilize closed captioning, you can click on the CC button at the bottom of a video.

Accommodating Student Disabilities

Gateway Education is committed to the belief that every individual should have an equal opportunity in education. Gateway Education seeks to assure access by providing accommodations to individuals with a disability as defined under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA). Accommodation includes, but is not limited to: aids or modification to courses, materials, or testing; and other services that allow better access by individuals with disabilities.

Individuals requesting accommodation should submit a request in writing or in an alternative format appropriate for their limitations. The request should include documentation of the disability, including information with recommendations of appropriate accommodation. Once eligibility has been established, accommodations must be requested on a course-by-course basis.

Requests can sent to the student services department at help@gatewayeducation.com